Whether by the pool or on the terrace, the new modular outdoor lounge Caro offers a luxurious seating experience for relaxed days or cosy summer nights, leaving nothing to be desired when it comes to feel-good factor and comfort.

Conceived by renowned German design studio Hoffmann Kahleyss Design, which creates furniture for well-known international brands, Caro is characterised by a rounded silhouette and its anthracite-coated aluminium frames with a delicately interwoven filigree weave made from String Flex outdoor rope. Perfectly complemented by sumptuous seat cushions and casual throw pillows for pure outdoor luxury.

Christoph Kahleyss from Hoffmann Kahleyss Design explains: "With Caro we wanted to convey generosity and nonchalance. The design allows generous floor plans, while the XL corner with its elegant curves offers a cosy retreat. Here you can build a nice nest with the loose back cushions. These cushions also provide great variability for all other elements and allow casual sitting. Due to the wide diamond weave the frame looks light and transparent, thereby creating a distinctive appearance. Another nice detail are the oval frame curved backrests, which are joined together as a unit at the bottom corner and then open up like flower petals."

The Caro collection consists of a generously proportioned lounge chair and six different sofa modules that allow a variety of individual arrangements. In addition, there are over 20 different fabrics to choose from for the seat and throw pillows which can all be mixed and matched to perfectly complement existing interior design styles or personal preferences.

Two different height lounge tables with optically light table tops in various ceramic colours add the finishing touch.
