Pantone Color of the Year 2022

On December 8th, 2021 the American Color Institute Pantone has announced the color „VERY PERI“ as the new Pantone Color of the Year 2022:

This year, for the first time in the history of the Pantone Color of the Year program, a new color was created to reflect global innovation and change that is happening.

“The Pantone Color of the Year reflects what is taking place in our global culture, expressing what people are looking for that color can hope to answer.” added Laurie Pressman, Vice President of the Pantone Color Institute.

solpuri offers many possibilities thanks to its diverse fabric collections and can thus accommodate that certain „pop of color“ in its lounge groups and dining furniture.
